CLINICAL RESEARCH

"Multinational clinical trials demonstrated it is a safe, effective, and well-tolerated treatment for erectile dysfunction (ED), which includes men who do not respond to type-5 (PDE-5) inhibitor (Viagra)."

- Urology Times, Oct. 2015

"Treatment is effective even in patients with severe erectile dysfunction who are PDE5i non-responders."

- The Journal of Urology, May 2016

The Scandinavian Journal of Urology published a randomized, double-blind, placebo-controlled study for ED which stated: "This treatment shows a possible cure in some patients."

Men's Health

HOW DOES IT WORK?

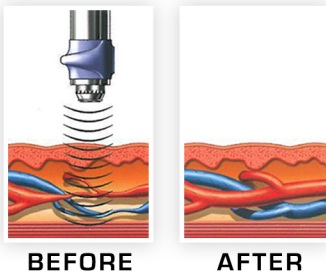

As men get older, the blood vessels that supply blood to their penis begin to collapse or break down. Good blood flow is essential for erectile function.

GAINSWave® improves blood flow by:

- Opening existing blood vessels
- Stimulating the growth of new blood vessels

The increased blood flow results in stronger, harder, and more sustainable erections.

"The Only Non-invasive Procedure that Treats the Root Cause of Erectile Dysfunction in Men."

READ WHAT CUSTOMERS HAVE TO SAY...

"Around the time I hit 40, I started to notice that my performance in the bedroom was beginning to slip a bit, then got worse. I didn't want to lose confidence in my relationship with [my fiancé] so I began to use oral ED drugs, which helped. I continued on and off with medication for 10 years, but who wants to have to take medication forever? When I learned about GAINSWave® I was excited about resolving my ED and ending the need to constantly take pills."

Jason S. (Fitness Trainer) - Chicago, IL

"I cannot begin to tell you how amazed I am with the results of GAINSWave®. I had the treatment, and I saw a difference making love to my wife that very night!"

Thomas W. (Athlete) - Los Angeles, CA

"I am a man in my 40s. I wouldn't say I have ED, but my wife and I both noticed that things were not quite "as good," as they used to be. It was taking longer to become aroused, and "getting ready" a second time almost impossible. I heard a radio commercial about GAINSWave®, and decided to give it a shot. Man, was I happy I did. My wife says our sex life is the best it has been since our Honeymoon!"

Eric T. (CEO) - Portland, OR
